

Career Resources for International Students

SPONSORED JOB SEARCH RESOURCES

Nittany Lion Career Network- Lists internships and jobs on this posting board exclusively for Penn State students and alumni. Link is found on the right hand side of the ACPC website. Simply log in using your PSU ID.

When searching for jobs, “choose yes” in Advanced Search to identify employers who provide visa sponsorship. Be advised, not all employers identify as visa sponsoring organizations.

Going Global - Provides specific search function to find U.S. companies that accept H-1B visas. Accessible by clicking on the right hand side of the ACPC website. Simply log in using your PSU id.

VISA & JOB SEARCH RESOURCES

Diversity Jobs

H1 Base Jobs

H1 Visa Jobs

International Student.com

iStudent City

PhDs.org

IMMIGRATION AND EMPLOYMENT REGULATION RESOURCES

Global Penn State | <https://global.psu.edu/category/international-students>

Online portal of resources for international students

DISSA | Directorate of International Student & Scholar Advising – 814-865-6348 (#2) or SUBMIT A QUESTION

Advising and immigration services for all PSU international students

ISS | International Student Services – Barbara Zarnick, 814-898-6059 or bez14@psu.edu

Immigration advising for international students at Penn State Behrend

DISCUSSING INTERNATIONAL STATUS WITH EMPLOYERS

Common Question #1: Should I list my visa status on my resume?

Your visa status should not be included on your resume. Hiring managers will ask the appropriate questions during the recruitment process. You should never lie about your visa status. Employers may ask if you are legally authorized to work in the United States, they cannot ask about your nationality, place of birth, or citizenship.

Common Question #2: When in the hiring process, do I reveal I am an international student?

It is usually recommended that students address the issue of their work status during the first or second interview, but no later than the time of the job offer.

For assistance with adjusting to campus and U.S. culture, and other support services please contact International Student Services in 11 Erie Hall, call 814-898-6031, or visit the ISS website.