

Career Resources for International Students

---

SPONSORED JOB SEARCH RESOURCES

---

Nittany Lion Career Network- Lists internships and jobs on this posting board exclusively for Penn State students and alumni. Link is found on the right hand side of the ACPC website. Simply log in using your PSU ID.

When searching for jobs, “choose yes” in Advanced Search to identify employers who provide visa sponsorship. Be advised, not all employers identify as visa sponsoring organizations.

Going Global - <http://behrend.psu.edu/Academics/academic-services/acpc>. Provides specific search function to find U.S. companies that accept H-1B visas. Accessible by clicking on the right hand side of the ACPC website. Simply log in using your PSU id.

---

VISA & JOB SEARCH RESOURCES

---

Diversity Jobs - <https://diversityjobs.com/c/job-fairs/>

H1 Base Jobs - www.h1base.com

H1 Visa Jobs www.h1visajobs.com

International Student.com - www.internationalstudent.com/jobsearch

iStudent City - <http://www.istudentcity.com>

PhDs.org- www.myvisajobs.com

---

IMMIGRATION AND EMPLOYMENT REGULATION RESOURCES

---

Global | Penn State Office of International Student Services – <https://global.psu.edu/internationals-penn-state>
Online portal of Penn State resources for international students

DISSA | Directorate of International Students & Scholars Advising – 814.865.6348 or DISSA-Adviser@psu.edu
Administrative support contact information for international students

---

DISCUSSING INTERNATIONAL STATUS WITH EMPLOYERS

---

Common Question #1: Should I list my visa status on my resume?

Your visa status should not be included on your resume. Hiring managers will ask the appropriate questions during the recruitment process. You should never lie about your visa status. Employers may ask if you are legally authorized to work in the United States, they cannot ask about your nationality, place of birth, or citizenship.

Common Question #2: When in the hiring process, do I reveal I am an international student?

It is usually recommended that students address the issue of their work status during the first or second interview, but no later than the time of the job offer.

For assistance with adjusting to campus and U.S. culture, contact Alecia Hollinger, International Student Advisor, at alecia@psu.edu.